

How to create a Facebook Group

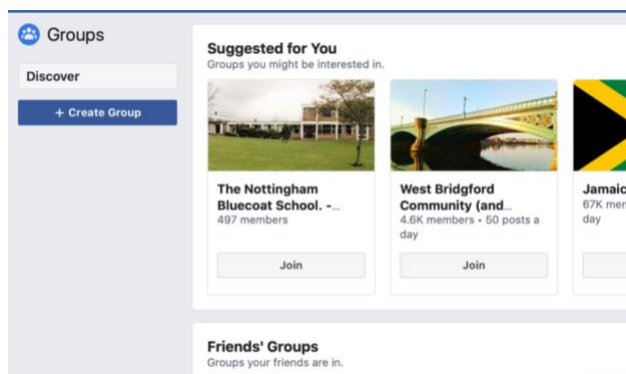

1. Make sure you have a Facebook account. If you don't, go to www.facebook.com and sign up.

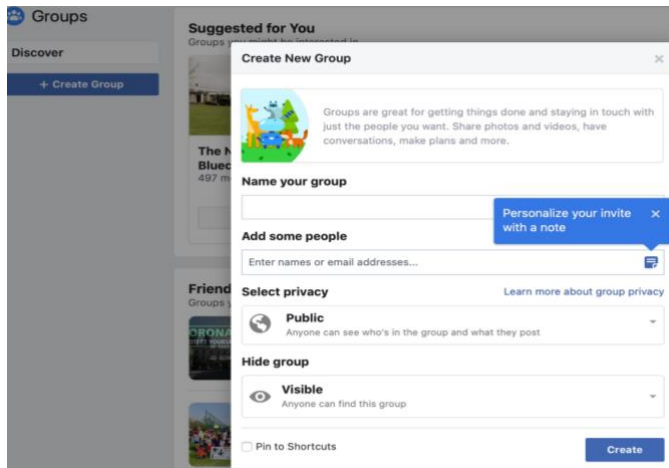

2. To create Facebook group, go to your Facebook news feed page and click Groups

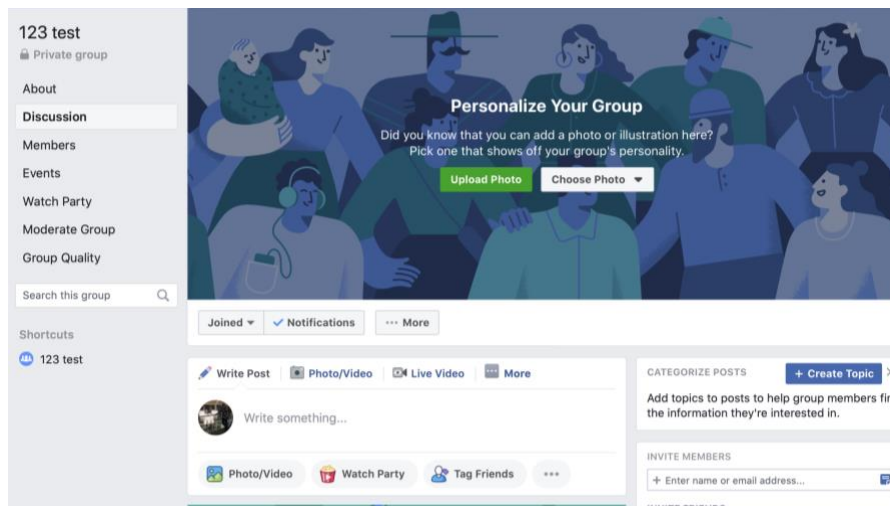

3. Click create group

4. Enter the name of your group, add people to your group if you have their Facebook name or email address and select the privacy of your group. Here you can decide if you want your group visible to the public or private where your group can't be found. If your group is private, you will have to add members to your group. Once you have entered the information required, press create.

5. Now you will be at your Facebook group landing page. You can personalise your group by uploading or choosing a photo for your banner, adding members to your group and sharing content.

6. To create a post, click on the Write something... box and you'll be able to write a post, upload photos/videos, do a live video and more.
